ALLIES SMASHING WITH GREAT FORCE AGAINST GERMANS ON FLANDERS LINE

British, French and Belgian Troops Are Taking Part in the Drive, and Notable Advance
Is Made.

ROULERS HAS FALLEN AND COURTRAI IN PERIL; MANY PRISONERS TAKEN

New Advance Has Brought Allied Troops in Range of German Coast Defenses,
But Guns From Them
Have Offered No Opposition—Stiff Fighting on Southern Part of Front.

New York, October 14.—(By Associated Press.)—Peace talk pervades the air, but it is falling on deaf ears, as far as the armies in the field are concerned. Instead of a relaxation in the intensity of the fighting, new hostilities, seemingly on a major scale, are being carried out by the British, French and Belgians in Belgian Flanders.

Having cleared out the old Laon salient and made advances northward in Champagne which are menacing the retirement of the Germans eastward toward the Valenciennes-Metz line, General Foch has ordered a drive in the Lys region of Flanders toward Ghent, which threatens to break entirely the grip of the Germans in Belgium all the way from the frontier to the coast, and likewise to eliminate the big bulge in the line with Lille as its apex.

MANY PRISONERS TAKEN BY ALLIES.

Dispatches from headquarters assert that Roulers has been captured and that Courtrai, the junction point on the railway leading to Ghent, has been outflanked. The French troops alone are said to have taken 3,000 prisoners, while the Belgians have captured several complete batteries and guns and numerous prisoners. It is stated that the new advance has brought the allied troops within range of the enemy coast defenses, but that the guns from them have offered no opposition.

Meantime to the south the Germans are offering stiff opposition to the British southwest of Valenciennes and on the Solesmes sector in an endeavor to prevent the closing in of the Lille sack and the capture of this important town and also Valenciennes, which are in precarious positions if a pincer movement gets well under way.

At last reports the Germans were still falling back from the region of Laon, that town and the entire St. Gobain massif being in the hands of the French. In Champagne the French have been enabled to make further crossings of the Aisne and to maintain better their front eastward, notwithstanding the stout defense of the enemy, who realizes it is of the greatest importance to hold back the French and Americans driving northward, as a breach in the southern line and a swift advance would imperil the entire German force inside the sack from the Oise river west of Flaviigny to Sissonne, east of Laon.

AMERICANS MEET STOUT RESISTANCE.

Probably the greatest resistance of all is faced by the Americans on both sides of the Meuse river. Vicious counter attacks are being delivered against the men from the United States, the fierceness of the assaults indicating that fresh forces have been brought into the fray to halt the de-or-die effort.

Bond Meeting Wednesday.

MEETING CALLED WEDNESDAY.
Every wholesale merchant and manufacturer in Atlanta is urged to attend a special Liberty Bond meeting of wholesalers and manufacturers at the chamber of commerce, Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The meeting is to be held for the purpose of generating Liberty Loan enthusiasm and devising ways and means to put Atlanta and the sixth district "over the top" before Saturday night.

"Let's cable the Eighty-second division, on Saturday night, that Atlanta has gone over the top! That's what we'll do if Atlantans come across!"—Forrest Adair.

And Atlantans are going to come across. The Liberty Loan committee is confident on that point. Beginning the third and final week of the campaign in deadly earnest, the loan officials have declared Tuesday evening as another "Stay-at-Home" night. Every home in Atlanta will be visited by loan workers on Tuesday night, between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock. And the head of each household will be told frankly that he must subscribe for fourth Liberty Loan bonds, or increase his subscription, if Atlanta is to make up her $4,000,000 deficit by Saturday night and save her good name.

Bonds and the Fair.

At a meeting of loan workers held at the chamber of commerce on Monday morning, it was unanimously agreed to request officials of the Southeastern fair to close the gates of that institution on Tuesday night. In answering the request, however, H. G. Hastings, president of the fair association; Beaumont Davison, vice president; Asa G. Candler and Mell R. Wilkinson, members of the executive council, issued a statement Monday afternoon explaining that while they were in full sympathy with the loan committee, they could not close the fair on Tuesday night without violating several hundred contracts. The text of their reply, which was as follows:

"We note request that the Southeastern fair be closed Tuesday night in order that the Atlanta people may be in their homes during the canvass for the sale of Liberty bonds.

"While we are in full accord and sympathy with the renewed canvass, we cannot close the fair without violation of one hundred or more contracts.

"Further, we have to consider the thousands of people from outside of Atlanta that the fair city is to see the fair, they being here for a limited time only, and we do not feel justified in closing the Southeastern fair to them.

"We do, however, earnestly request the Atlanta people not to go to the fair Tuesday night, and if they return home in ample time to meet the canvassers from your committee. They can easily see the night program any night during the week."

Important Meetings.

The loan drive on Monday was featured by a trio of important meetings. The first was a conference of the bankers, with Forrest Adair, at 10 o'clock Monday morning; the second, a meeting of team workers at 10:30, and the third at 4:30 Monday afternoon was a gathering of the retail merchants of the city.

Forrest Adair, Harry P. Hermance and Ben Z. Phillips led the team workers what was done at their meeting in the morning.

"Let's see how many of you men are willing to practice what you preach!" challenged Harry Hermance. "Every man of you who is willing to increase his own subscription before he goes out after the other fellow, stand to your feet!" Few indeed were the men who remained seated. And it was explained that most of them had already doubled their subscriptions.

The bankers' meeting was devoted to checking the lists of representative citizens, preparatory to making personal calls, urging the purchase of ad-

Masks Will Make Fair Grounds Look Like Great Harem

Orders Issued Monday as a Preventative Against
"Flu" Offer Great Possibilities to People Here for Big Show.

What a "flu" mask may hide, what wrinkles, what smiles, what tears, what other man's wife, may only be surmised by the fair authorities and Dr. T. F. Abernethy, secretary of the state board of health, to the effect that every man, woman and child who enters the Southeastern fair grounds for the rest of the week must be provided with this germ preventative. If you have one bring it with you, and if you haven't you can make your purchase just before entering Lakewood.

The entire grounds will resemble a Turkish harem and the mask will prove as great a blessing to man as to woman.

But as yet the possibilities of the mask are undeveloped. Think of the woman whose teeth fall to fit—she may be beautiful in a mask; think of the man whose wife knocked out a few of his front teeth—he may be handsome once again, in a mask; think about the agony that jealous wives and husbands will suffer as they wander around the grounds stealing glances at the masked faces that pass.

But to the faint-hearted, the mask carries hope, hope for a wonderful evening in the company of one's affinity without the ever-constant sensation of fear, fear that your next-door neighbor will see and recognize.

The mask has proven indispensable in trench warfare where it gives a certain security to the wearer. Is Atlanta so far from the line of powder and paint that she cannot also bask in the security of the mask?

Only Father Time can tell.

PROTEST IS MADE BY THEATER MEN.

As Result of Stand, Midway Shows at Fair Will Be Investigated and Every Precaution Against "Flu" Taken.

Feeling that the theaters and picture theaters of the city had been to a certain extent discriminated against by being forced to remain closed to the public while amusements of a like nature are being allowed to run full blast at the Southeastern fair, a protest was registered Monday morning during a meeting of a committee appointed by the Atlanta Theater Managers' association, and the matter was taken to the public safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, where it was laid before Chairman F. J. Paxon and other members of that committee.

The showing was made by the theater men that in some of the biggest northern cities, including New York, Chicago and others, the movies and theaters are running in full blast, not having been compelled to close because of the fact that they are not well ventilated and kept in a highly sanitary condition, but that they are regularly inspected by the government army officers and are given clean bills of health by these men. It was also pointed out that President Wilson was in a theater Saturday night, which must have been crowded on account of his presence, when he received the most momentous diplomatic paper in the history of the world, announcing the acceptance of the president's restrictions by the German kaiser.

Houses Are Sanitary.

The theater men stress the sanitation and the scientific measures that have been taken at great expense to keep their theaters in a healthful condition, and they stated to the public safety committee that there are many amusements operating at the fair which could not be ventilated and made so safe as the carefully planned picture theaters of Atlanta.

The theater men, however, show no disposition to fight the ordinance that has been passed placing a ban upon their places. They met it with a patriotic spirit that denoted their willingness to ascribe to the demands of the health department in an effort to conserve the public welfare, but several of the prominent picture house men declare they have been approached by citizens who have visited the fair, and who came to them with the question, "If these places can operate out there, why not let the sanitary picture shows of Atlanta operate?"

After hearing from the theater men's

One of the most interesting and instructing exhibits at the fair, and one that attracted special interest Monday, is that of the convalescent soldiers in the Liberal Arts building. It is at this booth that the work of the boys in khaki of the general hospital, No. 6, located at Fort McPherson, is displayed. The soldiers themselves give demonstrations of their work twice a day, at 11 in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The reclamation work at the hospital is under the charge of Major J. L. Riley and it was through his interest that the exhibit at the fair was made possible.

The ward occupational work, which is intended to give the soldiers something to do during their period of convalescence, is exhibited in many different forms. Each man in the hospital is taught some trade, which he may pursue when he recovers. There are specimens of various and beautiful kinds of work—automobile repairing, leather work, printing and even a tractor with which the men are taught advanced farming.

All during the day bands were at full tilt at various sections of the grounds and not a dull moment was allowed. In the afternoon the Grand Circuit races were held. During the races numerous free vaudeville acts were held on the large stage in front of the grandstand.

War and Bonds.

Numerous posters over the grounds and four-minute speakers kept the crowd thinking of the war and Liberty Bonds. Atlanta girls selling thrift stamps did excellent work. The large government exhibit of war relics and implements of modern warfare in the government building is very complete and drew large crowds.

C. A. Lindstrom is in charge of the exhibit and is assisted by an able corps of assistants. Among the army and navy exhibits is a miniature model complete to every port hole of the North Dakota. The cost of building this model was $7,000. Sailors and marines are on duty to explain the navy exhibits to visitors. They take particular

Text of Wilson's Reply To German Government

Washington, October 14.—The text of President Wilson's answer to the German note in regard to an armistice and peace follows: "Sir: In reply to the communication of the German government, dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today, I have the honor to request you to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the reichstag of the terms laid down by the president of the United States of America in his address to the congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the president in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the president feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolute satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

Germans Must Cease Atrocities

"The president feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States, nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhumane practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their very inhabitants.

"The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

Autocracy Must Be Destroyed

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding that the president should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the president delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last.

"It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice, disturb the peace of the world, or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The president's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The president feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The president will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING,

"FREDERICK ODERLIN,
"Charge d'Affaires, ad interim, in charge of German interests in the United States."

TURK PEACE PLEA AT LAST ARRIVES SENATE COMMENDS WILSON'S ANSWER

Note Differs Only Slightly
From Those of Germany and Austria—Different Sort of Plea Was Expected.

Washington, October 14.—Turkey's long-delayed note asking, like Germany and Austria, that President Wilson take in hand the restoration of peace, was received today at the state department.

The note, differing only slightly in phraseology from those of the greater central powers, was delivered by the Spanish ambassador.

Its failure to appear last week, coupled with the knowledge that the pro-German government at Constantinople virtually had collapsed, had given rise to the belief that it would not come and instead the Turks would make a different sort of appeal, probably offering unconditional surrender.

Turkey Talks of Separate Peace.
Amsterdam, October 14.—The first step taken by the new British cabinet, headed by Twelfth Pasha, says a dispatch from Vienna, under date of Sunday to The Wiener Zeitung was to dispatch a note to Austria-Hungary to the effect that, owing to the military situation, Turkey was obliged to conclude a separate peace with the entente.

The central powers requested Turkey to await the result of the exchange of notes with President Wilson, but no reply has so far been received from Turkey.

Diplomats and U. S.

many—If German People Want Peace, They Can Secure It by Getting Rid of Kaiser and His System.

Washington, October 14.—President Wilson has answered Germany's peace proposal with a decision which not only fulfills the expectations of supporters of his diplomacy, but also dispels the fears of those who predicted he would substitute victories at arms with defeats at diplomacy.

No peace with kaiserism, autocracy must go; no armistice can even be thought of while Germany continues her atrocities on land and sea; one cannot be considered unless it is fully dictated by the allied commanders in the field in such terms as absolutely provide safeguards and guarantees that Germany's part will not be a scrap of paper.

This in a few words is the president's answer.

If it does not bring a capitulation which may be more than an unconditional surrender, allied diplomats and American officials believe it may cause a revolution in Germany.

Beyond question it speaks for the entente allies as well as the United States.

The dispatch of the president's reply was followed by the issue of a formal statement at the white house by Secretary Tumulty:

"The government will continue to send over 250,000 men with their supplies every month and there will be no relaxation of any kind."

Quite outside of the formal phrases of a diplomatic document that was President Wilson's word to the world that he had no thought of stopping the fighting at this stage.

forts to proceed up the river valleys and thereby compel the Germans in case of a retreat to wend their way obliquely northeastward, instead of eastward, toward the German border. Concentrations of artillery are being used against the American positions at various places. Gas shells are not being spared by the enemy in his efforts to hold the Americans in check.

All the counter attacks of the Germans thus far have been successfully withstood by General Liggett's men, and the American artillery is answering the German guns shot for shot.

BRITISH TROOPS CLOSE TO COURTRAI; MANY TOWNS TAKEN

With the British Army in France, October 14.—(By A. P.)—The British, in their attack in Flanders, today approached Courtrai. Counter attacks by picked Bavarians against the French broke down under a hot fire. Thousands of prisoners have been taken and enormous casualties again have been inflicted on the enemy. The latest reports indicate that the British broke through at one place and are advancing toward the Lys.

The Belgians have signalled from the east and southeast of Roulers that they have captured Haghebroek, Gitsberg and Beverin and that 8,000 prisoners thus far have been counted.

The British have taken Dinanp, Boschmolen, Gullehan, Wulvelghem and Wervicq and area a thousand yards northwest of Menin.

They had captured by early afternoon 1,400 prisoners and had counted eleven field guns.

Although the advance is bringing the allies within easy range of the coast batteries, not a gun has been fired from them. It is rumored here that a British monitor steamed to the entrance of Ostend harbor and heavily bombarded the enemy positions.

The allied troops are driving in the general direction of Ghent and Courtrai.

The attack seems to be generally from Comines to the northward. The troops of the three nations went over the top after a "crash" bombardment only. There was no preliminary bombardment.

hardment. It undoubtedly tactically surprised the enemy.

In the British formations were some of Great Britain's best troops, and the forces of the French were of famous fighting organizations.

The blow in Flanders may prove to be Marshal Foch's master stroke. If the allied progress is continued the Germans throughout a wide stretch of territory, taking in the most important part of the Belgian coast, including, possibly, the important German submarine bases, as well as the forces in the entire Lille salient, either will have to get out or face a second Sedan.

It is known, partly as the result of the enemy graves counted, that the Germans have suffered more than 100,000 casualties in the Lys salient in the last three months.

ROULERS IS TAKEN BY ALLIED TROOPS; COURTRAI IN PERIL

London, October 14.—The British, French and Belgian forces, in their new drive against the German positions in Belgium, have captured Roulers, The Evening News says it understands.

The newspaper says an advance of 5 miles has been made in Belgium by the allies. Courtrai is threatened from the north. The advance continues.

The allies have reached the town of Lendelede, 4 miles northwest of Courtrai, and the line runs in front of Isenghem.

In the attack in Flanders today the French took 3,000 prisoners.

FRENCH CAPTURE MANY PRISONERS.

Paris, October 14.—French troops have captured the town of Roulers in Belgium and also 5,500 prisoners, according to the official announcement tonight.

In conjunction with the Italian forces the French captured and passed beyond Sisonne and south of Serre occupied the village of Monceau-les-Leups.

The French day statement says: "French troops last night continued to keep in close contact with the enemy infantry on the entire front. South of Chateau-Poreien, the French repulsed on the north bank of the canal last night, the remaining enemy elements offering resistance."

BRITISH FORCES CLOSE ON DOUAL.

London, October 14.—The British are pressing in on both sides of Douai. Field Marshal Haig's official statement today reports gains of ground both north and south of the city.

The statement reads: "Yesterday afternoon the enemy opened a heavy bombardment on a wide front north of Le Cateau. Under cover of this artillery fire, strong infantry attacks were launched against our positions east of the Selle river. In the neighborhood of Solesmes. These attacks were successfully repulsed after stiff fighting."

"Other attacks, in which tanks were employed to support infantry assaults, were delivered by the enemy yesterday without success against our positions opposite the village of Haspres (southwest of Valenciennes)."

"Our patrols pushed forward in the course of the night at a number of points south and north of Douai. We gained ground and took prisoners."

The official report of Field Marshal Haig tonight says:

"On the British front south of the Lys river only local actions have been reported. Our patrols and advanced detachments have been active, enabling progress to be made at certain points and the securing of a number of prisoners."

"Local fighting has taken place in the neighborhood of Erquinghem and—where John L. Sullivan's favorite beverage during the last years of his life. If Sullivan, in his time, conquered all men who faced him, there was a greater foe whom he vanquished after he had almost succumbed himself, and that foe was John Barley corn."

ALLIES STOPPED IN FLANDERS DRIVE, GERMANS REPORT

Berlin, October 14.—(Via London.)—Attacks by the allied troops on a wide front between the Lys river and Dixmude have been stopped by the Germans, while efforts by the French and Americans in Champagne have failed, according to the German official communication issued tonight.

The communication follows: "In Flanders the enemy attacked on a wide front between Dixmude and the Lys. We have stemmed the thrust. On the Oise and west of the Oise and on the Aisne and west of the Meuse attacks by the French and Americans failed."

North of Laon and on the River Aisne the German forces have withdrawn to new positions, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters staff.

The statement reads: "Thrusts by the enemy against the canal front on both sides of Douai were repulsed. The enemy, who temporarily penetrated Authuy-au-Bac, was thrown back by a counter attack."

"Northeast of Cambrai strong British attacks between Douchain and Haspres broke down under a hot fire. We cleared out a British nest, which had been left from the recent fighting."

"North of the Oise renewed attacks by the French at and south of Aisneville were repulsed."

"North of Laon and on the Aisne we are occupying new positions."

"Successful battles in the last few days in the Chemin des Dames and at our positions along the Sulpice river, before which the enemy suffered heavy losses in vain assaults which he renewed almost daily, have rendered possible the smooth carrying out of movements here as well as in the Champagne."

"On neither side of the Meuse was there any fighting of more importance. In raids we recaptured small sections of positions which were still occupied by the enemy at the conclusion of Saturday's fighting."

NISH CAPTURED. SERBIAN TROOPS PUSH NORTHWARD

London, October 14.—After capturing Nish on Saturday, Serbian forces took possession of the enemy positions north of the town, according to the Serbian official statement issued today. French cavalry have occupied the Bela Palanka.

The statement reads: "After hard fighting we entered Nish on Saturday and took positions north of the town. To the west we hold the line of Mramor-Prokuplje. French cavalry have occupied the Bela Palanka."

Vienna, October 14.—(Via London.)—The official communication issued by the war office today says:

"In the region north of Nish with drawn engagements continue, the civil population taking part. The enemy has manifested strong pressure in the Morava valley."

SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF JOHN L.

Today is the sixtieth anniversary of the birth of John L. Sullivan, to whom all men paid homage when he went to his last resting place almost a year ago. There will be many who will drink to his memory, not with the grape, but with a bumper of cold water—age during the last years of his life. If Sullivan, in his time, conquered all men who faced him, there was a greater foe whom he vanquished after he had almost succumbed himself, and that foe was John Barley corn.

The story of Sullivan's rise and fall and subsequent rehabilitation is scarcely Sunday school literature, yet it provides a moral and a golden text that could be used with effect by the W. C. T. U. Sullivan was not one of those who "could take it or leave it alone."

For years he "took it," and it was his proudest boast that he could consume more mixed drinks than any other man on earth. But when he found that the road he was traveling was leading inevitably to the gutter, he quit. Having established a record of sixty-five gin fizzes in an hour—a record that will probably stand for all time—John L. climbed aboard the water wagon and he became that bluff, gruff, gray old gentleman, sober and temperate in all things, thrifty yet open-handed to those in distress that the world knew him to be during the last years of his life, when agriculture and painters interested him more than pugilism. Over a quarter of a century he passed since that day in New Orleans when science was pitted against brute strength, and science, in the person of James J. Corbett, was the victor, yet to the last John L. wore that air of kindly arrogance and superiority that was his by right when he was an emperor of the world's gladiators. John L. had lost his crown, but in spirit, he was none the less a king.

Sixty years ago today the stork left a boy at a little home near Boston, where dwelt the Sullivans, from County Kerry. John Lawrence the proud parents named him, and he grew up to be a husky lad, and at 18 was much larger than his father. John was given a common school education and then got a job in a store. He was "fired" because of a tendency to place baseball above business. Then he took to boxing, and in amateur circles gained a reputation as "the Boston Strong Boy." His first important professional bout was with Joe Gould, then champion. It was a four-round exhibit affair, but old Joe got enough of Sullivan long before the four rounds were finished. John L. was then 20 years old, weighed about 180 pounds, and stood 5 feet and 10 1/2 inches. In 1890 Billy Madden took Sullivan under his managerial wing, and issued defiance to all comers.

The town of Hachita N. M., replying to questions of the national war garden commission, Washington, has had to admit that it has no war garden. Indeed, it never had a garden of any kind, because it has no water. Water for drinking and very circumspect bathing is brought from the railroad company, which imports it at considerable cost from a great distance.

A walkout of Ellyria (N. Y.) union carpenters, which held up work for several weeks, was settled by flipping a coin. When the two factions failed to agree Mayor Jones got them together and then suggested flipping a coin to settle it. The men won the toss and will receive 70 cents an hour.

Open House

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10, 1918.

Recent events have enhanced, not lessened, the importance of this loan. I hope that my fellow-countrymen will let me say this to them very frankly: The best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed. We are in the midst of the greatest exercise of the power of this country that has ever been witnessed or forecast, and a single day of relaxation in that effort would be of tragical damage alike to ourselves and to the rest of the world. Nothing has happened which makes it safe or possible to do anything but push our effort to the utmost. The time is critical, and the response must be complete.

(Signed)

Woodrow Wilson

CALL ON AMERICA FOR DESTROYERS

Sir Eric Geddes Says They Must Be Built to Fight the German U-Boats Which Will Again Become Active.

New York, October 14.—An appeal from the British government to America to expedite the construction of destroyers and anti-submarine craft and appliances, was made here tonight by Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, after he had asserted that the U-boat menace today is "greater than it ever was."

Speaking at a dinner given by the Pilgrim society, Sir Eric said that within the past few days he and Vice Admiral Sir Ludovic Duff, of the British navy, had discussed the naval situation in all its bearings with Secretary Daniels and Admiral Benson, and that "complete unity of view" had been reached.

"It is with Mr. Daniels' full concurrence that I now make this statement, that there is no greater service that can be rendered by the civilians of the United States today than to expedite the output of destroyers and anti-submarine craft and appliances of every description," Sir Eric said.

"Your secretary of the navy is pressing upon contractors and workmen the naval order, 'full speed ahead' in this work of paramount importance, and it is a pleasure for me to join with him in telling America how great is the importance that speedy construction be accelerated."

How America Responds.
"No country within my knowledge responds like America to an appeal, and perhaps it is seldom that a minister from another, though an allied country, is permitted to make an appeal, and it would be possible only with the fullest consent and authority of the responsible minister of the country of which he was a guest."

"I have that consent and I have that authority. There is no greater need today than the need of the utmost naval effort against the great offensive of the submarine which is now materializing and which the allied navies will defeat, as they have defeated every other effort of the enemy. But that defeat can be assured only if this need is recognized, and the wants of the two navies supplied, as I am sure the United States and Great Britain intend they shall be."

Discussing Germany's submarine menace, Sir Eric declared that while "most men say today that it is a thing of the past, the British admiralty's opinion that the menace is one that 'comes and goes,' and that in fact it is today not dead."

"Indeed, it is greater today than it ever was," he warned. "That is to say, the effort is greater than it ever was. I think now we are approaching a point where submarine warfare is again the weakest front of the alliance."

In opening his speech, Sir Eric said that while he must resist the temptation to allude to the present political situation, there were two things which he was convinced had to be stressed. "One is our absolute loyalty to those nations who are associated with us," he said, "and the other is our determination to continue the war and not to relax the muscles of our fighting arm nor our war effort in any anticipation of an early peace. To do so would be the surest way to render any discussions which may take place prolonged and less satisfactory."

British Naval Losses.
Sir Eric reviewed British naval losses, declaring his country's losses in fighting ships of all classes have been approximately 230—"more than twice the total losses of war vessels of the whole of our allies," and that 450 auxiliary craft, such as mine sweepers and trawlers, also have been destroyed. British merchant ships to the number of 2,400, with a gross tonnage of nearly 7,150,000 have been sunk, he said, or "nearly three times the aggregate losses of our allies and 50 per cent more than the total losses of all other allied and neutral countries."

While British and American sea forces in all theaters of naval fighting are a homogeneous navy, Sir Eric added, the safety of lines of communication should not be taken for granted. "Germany is not beaten, not nearly beaten, and in some respects is stronger than ever she was," he warned, regarding the enemy's naval situation. "Should the German naval policy be changed by force of circumstances, or by a spirit of adventure which it has so far failed to show, it will be met and if it means to fight that fight, will be a naval Armageddon in which your magnificent battle-ships with the grand fleet will, I am sure, take a worthy and distinguished part."

Four tons of explosives are dropped each day on Bruges and Zeebrugge, Sir Eric asserted, so that these ports are of no value to the Germans, who, according to his latest information, are removing the bases and the machinery they had installed there. In surface fighting, he added, the allies have the mastery. In the North sea, in the Adriatic and in the Mediterranean, Sir Eric added that "dangerous mine fields have been laid by our submarines and fast offensive mine layers right into the mouth of the Ems behind the German fleet, the operation being performed 'night after night.'"

In the southern Baptist convention and in the Sons of Confederate Veterans and other organizations he had taken a leading part. Dr. Mell was a graduate of the University of Georgia.

committee, the public safety committee of the chamber of commerce passed resolutions in which the committee declined to ask that the ban be raised upon public gatherings in the city, declaring they were unwilling to assume the great responsibility of action, but at the same time the committee passed resolutions declaring it to be the sense of the committee that the amusement places of the city should be investigated by the proper authorities, and that if found to be a menace to the health of the people, they should be closed. Dr. J. P. Kennedy will visit the fair for the purpose of inspecting the amusement grounds today.

Must Wear "Flu" Masks.

Monday afternoon there was promulgated by the state health authorities declaring that all people attending the Southeastern fair should wear "flu" masks, and it is understood that this will be strictly enforced.

This order, it is believed by the health authorities, will materially assist in preventing any spread of the influenza that might result through the gathering of vast crowds that are expected to gather during the balance of the week at Lakewood, and people are also warned that they will prove a great protection if they wear the masks on the street cars going to and from the fair grounds.

When asked Monday afternoon if he would recommend the raising of the ban on entering such places, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, declared that he would not.

"I feel," said he, "that so long as the city health officer is in the measure closing these places as a preventive against the spread of this disease, the city, where crowds could be gathered, should be again opened to the public for at least the balance of the present week, in his belief that by the end of the present week most of the danger from influenza will have passed."

The cost in dollars and cents to the moving picture theaters, the exchange and hundreds of employees of this industry in the city of Atlanta since the ban was placed upon the business by the Spanish influenza has amounted to enormous figures during the week, and many men and women have been thrown out of employment.

The theater men in the city estimated that the loss to the industry has already remained closed amount to more than $22,000. There are nineteen amusement houses in the city, and each of them employs from four to twenty-five people, all of whom are now idle. The losses to the city, and each of them employ from four to twenty-five people, all of whom are now idle. The losses to the city, and each of them employ from four to twenty-five people, all of whom are now idle.

Employees Are Losing.

The pay rolls of the various exchanges in the city range from $175 to $300 per week, according to figures furnished by a prominent exchange man, and a large number of working people have been put out of employment.

The prominent business men of the city, however, who are connected with the Chamber of Commerce, and who have looked into the situation, declare themselves in thorough sympathy with the theater men, but express themselves as being unwilling to assume the responsibility for asking that the ban be lifted, especially in view of the possible danger that might come through it.

The city ordinance that is responsible for the closing of the picture theaters and other amusement places, as well as the schools and churches, was passed by the city fathers last Monday, a week ago, and the time stated in this ordinance for its expiration is two months, but it is expected that this ordinance will be revoked by the councilmen when it appears upon recommendation of the health officers that all danger of epidemic has passed. The lifting of the ban will have to come through the city council.

Fair Invites Probe.

The Southeastern Fair association has invited the health authorities of the city and state to inspect rigidly all amusement places upon the grounds, and any place that does not comply with sanitary requirements will be closed up.

The attitude of the fair association and the shows that are operating under contract with the association is that nothing should be allowed within the grounds that would be unsafe to the people who visit the fair.

The following statement has been made by the officers of the Southeastern fair association:

After consultation with and at the request of Dr. Abernethy, secretary of the state board of health, today the Southeastern fair association will from now on enforce a rule that all visitors at the fair grounds must wear gauze "flu" masks while on the grounds.

The general conditions at Lakewood are good and are so recognized by the health officials. The danger, if any, is almost negligible. However, we prefer to be absolutely on the safe side.

The "flu" masks are easy to make at home or are on sale at the various leading drug stores. Wearing them occasions little or no discomfort and we feel sure that the patrons of the Southeastern fair will meet the request of the health authorities with the same good spirit of cooperation that they have shown in complying with other war restrictions as to food, light, power, etc.

We have a wonderful exhibition on hand at Lakewood this week and we certainly hope that every one who possibly can will visit the Southeastern fair this season.

H. G. HASTINGS,
President Southeastern Fair Ass'n.

ROARS OF CHEERS SOUND FOR WILSON WHILE HE STROLLS

Washington, October 14.—While President Wilson's decision on Germany's note was being prepared for announcement at the white house and the state department, the president went downtown on a shopping trip. He was greeted with roars of cheers. Acknowledging the greetings, Mr. Wilson abandoned the motor and strode off up the avenue, walking alone and with secret service men to the side and behind.

Pennsylvania avenue was black at the time with crowds of war workers just out of office. A great crowd surrounded the shop in which the president was, and when he appeared he was greeted with roars of cheers. Acknowledging the greetings, Mr. Wilson abandoned the motor and strode off up the avenue, walking alone and with secret service men to the side and behind.

Washington has gotten pretty used to seeing the president on the streets, but his appearance today, when the world has its eyes focused upon him, lent a touch of the dramatic to the incident. The president wore a brown suit, a crown, soft hat and carried a walking stick. He was kept continually smiling and acknowledging greetings as he went along, carrying a small package, evidently the contents of his purchases.

It's Wonderful What a Big Difference Daylight Does Make in a Ready-to-Wear Department

—As a matter of fact, garment buying should always be done in daylight, just as buying silk or woolen fabrics. It is only in daylight that a woman really KNOWS just what she is getting in exchange for money. Any artist will caution you against speculating on color values under artificial light because artists know from experience how tricky colors are—except in DAYLIGHT.

—Women who are buying garments should be impressed with these facts because they mean so much to them and should therefore come to our DAYLIGHT READY-TO-WEAR SECTION. Just one purchase under these ideal conditions means you will never again do otherwise.

AVOID "FLU" BY STERILIZING YOUR NOSE

London Epidemic of 1891 Proved Ol. Eucalypti (Eucalypti Salve) Is Most Effective Preventive Known.

Get out your jar of Eucalypti Salve or, if you have none, go to the nearest drug store at once and get a family jar of this well-known nose and throat sterilizer. Sterilize morning, noon and night by sniffing the Eucalypti up into the nostrils and rub a little on the back of your tongue, whence it will spread to the throat and tonsils, thus sterilizing the nose and throat.

The chief ingredient of Eucalypti Salve is Ol. Eucalypti, the nonpoisonous antiseptic whose power to prevent influenza was first discovered in the London epidemic of 1891. In addition, Eucalypti Salve contains just enough camphor, menthol and oil of white pine to make it soothing, healing and delightful to use. Even the babies enjoy it. Ask any well informed physician and he will tell you that Eucalypti, though originally designed for the mother's use to soothe the colds, croup and to prevent pneumonia, is the best and most agreeable antiseptic you can use to sterilize the nose and throat of young and old alike. Any drug store can supply you for half a dollar.—(adv.)

CONFERENCE CALLED ON CANAL PROJECT

To consider the St. Mary's canal project, and to promote the trade expansion and developments of the south, a conference of several hundred prominent people has been called in Atlanta by the Southern Commercial congress, at the request of Governor Hugh M. Dorsey. The meeting will be held next Tuesday, October 22, at 10 o'clock, in the assembly hall of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and several hundred of the leading business men from all parts of the southern states will attend.

The governor believes the time opportune to push the St. Mary's canal project, and this matter will be the leading factor in the program of constructive work to be formulated at the conference. The plans worked out in Atlanta will be presented at the annual meeting of the Southern Commercial congress, which will be held in Baltimore on December 8.

Committee Is Appointed.
The local arrangements for the meeting have been turned over to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. A committee to work out the details has been appointed, with Colonel Frederic J. Paxon as chairman. More than five hundred letters and three hundred telegrams were sent out by Walter G. Cooper, secretary of the local chamber, Monday to merchants, manufacturers of cotton and other products, railroad and steamship officials from all over the south, urging them to attend the conference.

It is believed that the war has brought about conditions which offer a favorable opportunity for direct trade between the south and the West Indies, South America and other countries. The construction of the St. Mary's canal would shorten the route from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic ports 450 miles.

Following is a call issued by Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., president of the Southern Commercial congress, to manufacturers, exporters, bankers, manufacturers and transportation interests of the south, as they relate to the merchant marine and the railroads:

Call Is Issued.

Whereas, a conference under the auspices of the Southern Commercial congress, is being called by the officials in congress from the southern states and by representatives from the various southern states, and whereas, a resolution introduced by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey of the state of Georgia, was unanimously adopted providing for a further conference to be called by the Southern Commercial congress in the immediate future, with a view of evolving a plan of trade expansion of the south in the trade expansion of the country, the said plan to be presented at the tenth annual convention of the Southern Commercial congress to be held in the city of Baltimore, Md., December 8-12, 1918.

Following in accordance with the foregoing resolution and on behalf of the Southern Commercial congress, I hereby call upon the exporters, exporters, bankers, manufacturers, representatives of both rail and water transportation and also to the officers and members of organizations whose purposes relate to the foregoing, to assemble in Atlanta, Ga., at 10 o'clock Tuesday, October 22, for the purpose of deliberative discussion of the south's present status in commerce and of the opportunity for the expansion of the trade of the south to the ports of the south Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico for an interpretation of the economic advantages that accrue to the south by virtue of geographic location and inland waterways; that the conclusions reached may be submitted for final adoption at the tenth annual convention of the Southern Commercial congress to be held in the city of Baltimore, December 8-12, 1918.

The following Atlanta business men were appointed Monday on the arrangement committee of the chamber of commerce: Colonel F. J. Paxon, chairman; J. K. Orr, A. M. Schoen, Tull C. Waters, J. Oscar Mills, Fred Houser, Mel R. Wilkinson, Forrest Adair, Ivan Allen, Frank M. Inman, J. M. Miller, L. Moore, E. P. McBurney, P. S. Arp, Wright, W. D. Ellis, Jr., and W. H. White, Jr.

ATLANTA TO MAKE SUPREME EFFORT

ditional bonds. The retail merchants, at their meeting, were shown by business men who have given careful study to the situation, what a profitable investment Liberty Bonds are, particularly where a firm is liable for the heavy war taxes imposed under the new regulations.

No Mass Meetings.

There will be no mass meetings during the remainder of the campaign, owing to the prevalence of Spanish influenza, but the health authorities have ruled that smaller meetings, such as those held on Monday, are permissible. A very important meeting of Atlanta's wholesalers and manufacturers is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The meeting will be similar to that of the retailers, which convened Monday.

"We're feeling fine and going strong!" was the message that came from district headquarters Monday.

District Chairman W. C. Wardlaw was offering to bet a box of cigars that the district would go "over the top" before Saturday morning.

"Of course, there are some counties," he explained, "that have been laboring under a handicap for some time, and a few of them will not be able to make up their quotas. But on the other hand, many of the counties are now in a surplus position, which will serve to balance things up and put the district in the clear. Telegrams of optimistic replies to the whole thing have been received by the score at headquarters Monday. With a number of rallies to be held at various points, it is expected that the next few days will show a material increase in the total of subscriptions.

Counties Over Top.
The complete list of counties that have met or exceeded their quotas is as follows:

Georgia—Clarke, Dougherty, Quitman, Hart, Oglethorpe, Burke, Glascock, Hancock, Taliaferro, Warren, Henry, Spalding, De Kalb, Duval, ette, Coweta, Pickens, Crawford, Charlton, Meriwether, Troup, Upson, Jasper, Forsyth, Echols, Wilcox, Liberty.

Tennessee—London, Union, Hamilton, Meigs, Morgan, Hamilton, Franklin, Grundy, Marion, Monroe, Sequatchie, Scott, Macon, Mouty, Hickman, Houston, Humphreys, Lawrence, Lincoln, Wilkes, Polk, Adams, Louisiana—Ascension, Livingston, Allen, Beauregard, Jefferson Davis, St. Charles, Shelby, Choctaw, Etowah, Autauga, Lowndes, Chambers, Perry, Wilcox, Wilkes, Polk, Adams, Louisiana—Ascension, Livingston, Allen, Beauregard, Jefferson Davis, St. Charles, Shelby, Choctaw, Etowah, Autauga, Lowndes, Chambers, Perry, Wilcox, Wilkes, Polk, Adams.

Large Subscriptions.

Among the large subscriptions in the present campaign is that of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills, of Atlanta. This corporation, through its Liberty Loan committee, has subscribed $25,000 worth of Fourth Liberty Loan bonds, and its branch houses have taken an additional $70,000. The firm's Liberty Loan committee has also subscribed for approximately $25,000 worth of bonds and is holding a large name ratio obtained at the branch houses.

Doubling previous subscriptions is proving the trend of the campaign. Increased subscriptions reported on Monday were those of S. C. Dobbs, who increased his subscription by $20,000, and Frank E. Block, who took out $10,000 additional bonds for himself and an equal amount for himself. The latter subscription was secured through the efforts of the Liberty Loan committee of the city of Atlanta, which is still continuing its campaign.

The loan campaign is still continuing enthusiastically at Camp Gordon. Company M, of the Second Replacement, on Sunday subscribed for $1,600 additional bonds.

Company D, of the Sixth Infantry Replacement regiment, the "baby" company of the "baby" regiment, announced that it had subscribed for $4,000. Captain H. T. Herndon is the commanding officer and is the son of the late General Herndon. Shotwell had charge of the campaign.

At a dinner given on Monday evening at the Georgia Hotel, in honor of Major Walter W. Wade, construction quartermaster at Camp Gordon, and a number of his friends from Buffalo, N. Y., J. J. Brock, of Atlanta, broached the subject of the Fourth Liberty Loan and $18,000 was promptly subscribed by those present for the loan.

WORK OF SOLDIERS FEATURES EXHIBITS

pride in the wicked looking torpedoes, depth charges and mines that are playing big parts in the fight against the U-boats of the Germans.

Many interesting things can be found in the food exhibits, which are the department of agriculture. Prize farm products of every kind are on display and the fertility of the lands which compose the farms in the south is thus shown. Paintings contributed by foremost American artists urge food conservation.

Moving pictures showing work that has a bearing on winning the war, are given daily free of charge in an open-air theater in connection with the government exhibits.

Big Auto Display.
Large crowds frequented the automobile building, where more than 40 exhibitors, using approximately forty thousand square feet of floor space display the very latest models of American cars.

Another feature of the fair is the American Red Cross exhibit under the direction of Mrs. R. L. Foreman in the basement of the government building. This exhibit occupies nine booths.

Monday morning an elderly lady was taken desperately ill on account of sunstroke, and rushed to the Red Cross booth. Here she was given first aid treatment under the care of Mrs. Richard Palmer and quickly recovered.

Registration of all trained and untrained nurses in Atlanta is urged at the Red Cross booth by Mrs. Palmer, who states that this registration is essential, and must be completed this week.

The John J. Jones shows were running at full blast in Larkland all day Monday, and succeeded in amusing full crowds by means of shows, riding devices and novelties of all kinds, from all parts of the country. Many new and unique attractions are to be found which succeed in keeping the crowd always in a good humor.

Monday night a beautiful and dazzling exhibition of fireworks was held over the lake. In addition to the fireworks, free circus acts in front of the grandstand provided diversion.

This Is "School Day."

Tuesday at the Southeastern fair is to be "School day," and the largest crowd of the week is anticipated. All school children will be admitted to 10 cents. The excellent program and fine weather give fair promise of breaking all previous records on attendance.

All men in the service will be admitted for half price during the week. Monday the Southeastern fair began in earnest before a splendid crowd. A better day could not have been picked, the weather man supplying a day that was both sunshiny and bracing. While the formal opening of the fair was held Saturday, it was Monday that saw all of the exhibits in place and the exposition running full tilt.

Everyone seemed in the best of spirits, and the program of "Atlanta day," as Monday was termed, went through without a hitch. The exhibits of the department were in place ready for the thousands of visitors who came from every section of the south.

The battle barns, in which are gathered blooded stock from all over the state, are on exhibition in greater quantities than ever before in the history of the fair to compete for numerous prizes. All of these exhibits are in place now, and the judging for prizes begins.

ALL PORTUGAL PLACED UNDER STATE OF SIEGE

Lisbon, Portugal, October 14.—The Portuguese government has declared a state of siege for all Portuguese territory. The president, as commander-in-chief of the military and naval units, has taken direct command of the forces. Tranquillity reigns in the country.

At Penafiel, a town nineteen miles northeast of Oporto, there has been a small show of insubordination. A military force promptly reduced the rioters to obedience.

SENATE COMMENTS WILSON'S ANSWER

recting a note of inquiry to Germany after receipt of the peace offer, today introduced a resolution to declare it the sense of the senate that no further communication be had with the German government on the subject of an armistice and that no communication be had with the German government except on the question of unconditional surrender of Germany.

"I am very glad and genuinely pleased," said Senator Lodge, "that the president takes the ground which he does. Of course, everything he says about the conduct of the German government, the German army and the German navy is absolutely true. Such conduct is quite sufficient in itself to put an end to any talk about an armistice."

"The president's last clause, in which he in substance declines to carry on any discussions with the German government, is eminently satisfactory, and will, I am sure, bring a great sense of relief to the American people, who are certain, desire an unconditional surrender won by the armies in the field."

Doubts Removed, Says Hitchcock.

Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said:

"My view is that the president has removed all doubts that have been expressed as to the wisdom of his course, and provided against all the dangers that critics have seen in the policies he has been pursuing. He says, in effect, that if an armistice is offered, it must be one in which the generals in the field will approve and which will preserve the existing supremacy of the military forces."

He lays great stress on the fact that the conditions to be met will mean the downfall of military autocracy of Germany, which means a radical amendment to the constitution of Germany, which will place the war-making and peace-making in the hands of the people.

"To my mind, the greatest achievement of the war would be the demoralization of Germany, and it is the best assurance of the future peace of the world."

The note comes up to all public expectation in every way, said Senator Martin of Virginia, the democratic leader.

Other senators who issued statements approving the reply included Senators Wadsworth of New York and New of Indiana, republicans, and Senators Pittman, Neff, Thomas, Colorado, Sharp, Texas, and Overman, North Carolina, democrats.

Degrade Kaiser, Urges Cummins.
Complete degradation of the present German government added the establishment of a new regime for the German people was advocated by Senator Cummins of Iowa, speaking in the senate today. The allies must make Germany powerless to make war, he said, and unless that is done the millions who have died will have died merely to bring about a truce with brutality.

From the time the United States entered the war it was obvious that Germany must be made a power, declared Senator Cummins.

Unconditional surrender of the German must come before peace, declared the Iowa senator asserted.

"I do not want to see a ruined Germany," declared Senator Williams, of Mississippi, democrat. "I want to see a broken German army and a broken and ruined Prussian autocracy."

He said the English-speaking race always has made magnanimous peace, and he would have no personal pleasure of the destruction of German cities or the suffering of German women.

THE MEANING OF 100% WAR WORK

An Analysis by the Packard Motor Car Company

HE four bed-rock essentials of war are Coal, Steel, Labor and Transportation. You cannot have any of the four without the other three.

You cannot feed and clothe the Nation—cannot ship men and munitions, cannot produce a dollar of wealth—without all four.

Transportation Specialists

The essential work of the Packard Motor Car Company lies in the field of Motor Transportation.

Throughout its twenty years' career it has always regarded the motor car as primarily a means of transportation—whether of passengers or of merchandise.

If the 45,000 Packard passenger cars show any advantages in speed, any unusual economy in gasoline, tires and upkeep—it is because the Packard has always been built to transportation standards.

Speed and economy are the most important factors in transportation.

There are seven sizes of Packard Trucks—from one ton to six-and-one-half tons—because transportation economy demands fitting the equipment to the load. The light truck for the light load—the heavy truck for the heavy load.

This company was the first in the world to design and perfect the 12-cylinder motor—the new and higher embodiment of the transportation principle of flexibility, power and economy.

100% War-work Program

The 100% war-work program recently announced by the Packard Company is an extension of the Packard war-essential program adopted when war broke out.

Seventy per cent of Packard man-power and equipment were devoted to such work the first year of the war.

Ninety per cent in the second year.

The manufacture of passenger cars has been discontinued.

And from now on One Hundred per cent devoted exclusively to war-essential work.

This work will take many forms, commanding the man-power and equipment of the entire Packard plant of sixty-one factory buildings covering fifty-six acres of ground, working eighteen and twenty-four hours a day. A production capacity of One Hundred Million Dollars a year devoted to war essentials exclusively:

WAR MOTORS TRUCKS
AIRPLANES TRACTORS

Packard Service to Owners

Not the least important of the Packard war-essential activities will be the production of replacement parts for Service Stations and Dealers.

There are many thousands of Packard Trucks in industrial service. They are not only keeping essential business going, but they are taking a heavy load off the over-burdened railroads.

And of the 45,000 Packard passenger cars in use—many are devoted to war-work, most of them to essential transportation.

These wheels must be kept turning—not only to hold faith with the Packard owners, whose confidence and good-will are the finest assets of the Packard Company; but because the Nation cannot afford to have its transportation contracted.

Packard a Permanent Institution

Its Motor Transport Department is a permanent organization for the development of industrial motor transportation.

Its Branches and Dealers are permanent agencies for service.

It has inspired most of the developments of motor transportation, and has made vital contributions to all.

The far-reaching meaning of the 12-cylinder engine—Packard's newest contribution to motor transport—will be better known after the war.

It feels today that its highest service now to the individual American, whether a Packard owner or not, is to put all its resources back of the National program—100% Win-the-war.

WOMEN TO SECURE $4,000,000 IN LOAN

That the Atlanta woman's Liberty Loan committee will reach their goal of $4,000,000 seems a foregone conclusion, Mrs. T. T. Stevens Monday, when seen in her office in the Healey building.

"We are anxious to get in all our outstanding promises and subscriptions," said Mrs. Stevens, "and from the reports I am receiving today, I am convinced we will have more than we expected to have. Having gone over our three million in eight days' time, I feel sure, could we have acted upon the message of Mrs. McAdoo, to double the subscriptions we already have, that we could have done so. We have had only an eight-day drive, instead of one or two weeks.

"It takes women some time to get in their full reports, and I hope that by the end of the week, not only all committees, but all individuals, will have made their complete reports so that our committee can wire our reports to the national women's committee in Washington Saturday night, thus having fulfilled our obligations the last day of the drive.

"As you know, the national woman's Liberty Loan committee is an organization independent of any other, but in every community there has always been pursued the policy of co-operation, as far as possible, with the men's committee. That has always been the policy in Atlanta, therefore we have willingly seen ahead only Atlanta's interest—we have seen cause, not credit—therefore our willingness to give up our intensive work in the drive as suddenly as we came into it when called.

"Various committees, supplementary committees have all worked with will and patriotism that has brought results of which I am sure Atlanta will be proud."

Mrs. Stevens will keep her office open the entire week, but she urged that all who have in any way solicited subscriptions, and who still have not made their complete reports, to do so as soon as possible.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED BY SUPREME COURT

In refusing to grant a new trial to G. S. Barrs, convicted of violating the state prohibition laws in the Dublin city court, the supreme court holds that a judge of the superior court in an adjoining county in the same circuit in which a previous trial was held has no jurisdiction to sit in the case unless the judge of the city court in which the original charge is pending is disqualified.

Barrs was arrested in Dublin and placed in the Laurens county jail. At his own request he was taken by a deputy to Wrightsville, in Johnson county, and placed in the county jail.

Judge L. Kent, of the superior court, when the case was called in the Dublin city court Judge R. D. Flint heard the case and imposed a sentence of twelve months without the privilege of paying a fine, while Judge Kent had imposed a sentence of six months in lieu of a fine of $50. At the second trial Barrs pleaded "former jeopardy" which the judge overruled. Judge Flint was upheld by the superior court.

Billy Burke, who had the honors after the passing of his old rival, but the Illinois Thunderbolt was not equal to the job. Cyclone Johnny Thompson claimed the title after whipping Burke in 1911, and then followed a host of self-styled middle-weight champions—Frank Klaus, George Ship, Al McCoy, Young Ahearn, Jimmy Flabby, Jack Dillon, Eddie McGearty, Les Darcy, Mike Gibbons and several others. Most of these claimants were good men, but none of them measured up to the standard of the lamented "Steve."

WIDOW OF GOVERNOR NORTEN DIES HERE

Mrs. W. J. Northen, widow of ex-Governor Northen, passed away early Monday morning at her home, 734 Piedmont avenue, in the 79th year of her age.

Mrs. Northen was Miss Martha Neel, of Mount Zion, Hancock county, Georgia. She was educated at Madison, Ga., in a college conducted by Dr. Brown. She was married to Mr. Northen in her father's home in Mount Zion in 1860, where for 25 years he conducted a famous school in which many of Georgia's best-known men were educated.

When her husband became governor of Georgia in 1890, they moved to Atlanta, and this city has been her home ever since. Governor Northen died in 1912, and their only son, Thomas H. Northen, passed away in March, 1904.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Annie Belle Northen; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas H. Northen; two grandchildren, Miss Ruth Northen, and Lieutenant George Northen, now with the American expeditionary forces in France, and by one brother, Professor Charles N. Neel, of Cornelia, Ga.

When Governor and Mrs. Northen came to Atlanta they united with the First Baptist church, where they were both very active, and where the governor was a deacon when the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church was organized in 1904, they were prime movers in the work, and Governor Northen was chairman of the board of deacons up to the time of his death.

Mrs. Northen was equally active in leadership among the women's organizations, but working with the greatest zeal as vice president until her health failed, when she was made honorary president for life.

Her Christian activities extended beyond the borders of her own church. For many years Mrs. Northen was a member of the executive board of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union of Georgia, and through her efforts the Baptist women of Georgia raised the money to send Dr. T. A. Ayer to Kiwanan, China, the first medical missionary ever sent by the Southern Baptist convention.

Mrs. Northen was trustee of the Georgia Baptist Orphans' Home, Florence Crittenton Home, Atlanta Kindergarten association, Ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. and was active in the organization of the Travelers' aid work of this city.

The funeral will take place from her residence, 734 Piedmont avenue Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church, will conduct the services. The family request that their friends omit flowers.

STREET CAR HEARING RESUMED IN ATLANTA

The heritage before the National war labor board concerning differences between the Georgia Railway and Power company and members of local 732, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, which were begun in Washington a few weeks ago were resumed here Monday, the meeting being held in the federal courtroom of the postoffice building.

Three days is the time allotted for the hearing in this city, which is being conducted by Charlton Ogburn, who is special representative of the war labor board in charge of street railways. There are five issues under discussion.

1. The question of wages and hours.

2. The right of employees to wear the union badge while on the cars.

3. The reinstatement of 33 men who left the company or were discharged at the time of the strike in 1916.

4. The reinstatement of 10 men who went out with the strike of 1918.

5. The question as to whether or not the company will deal with representatives of employees who are not themselves employees.

Wanted Better Wages.

J. B. Astin, the last witness of the day, said, as did several of the others, that he would be glad to return to his old work, but he preferred better wages.

In cross-examination Mr. Colquitt asked each of the witnesses what would be necessary before he would return to the employ of the Georgia Railway and Power company. While some failed to specify any change, most of the men said they would demand better wages and conditions.

Mr. Ogburn presented the possibility of having each of the 33 men give an affidavit stating the terms he wished for re-employment. This would save much time and would supply the necessary information. Mr. Colquitt, however, insisted that he wanted to hear every man an individual expression as to his exact demands and he wished the privilege of cross-examining them on this subject. Mr. Ogburn then agreed that he would do this.

Mr. Colquitt promised to restrict his questioning to this one point.

There will be a recess on Monday, chiefly on the part of the car employees and other interested laborers. George Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company, was present during the entire hearing.

COULDN'T SLEEP APPETITE GONE

Nervous and Restless, and Kept Getting Worse, Says Arkansas Lady—Cardui Brought Relief.

Marmaduke, Ark.—Mrs. Mary E. Hill, near this place, writes: "I was in a very wretched state of health. I would be in bed two or three weeks at a time and would have fainting spells. I was so weak and, Oh! how my back hurt me. I was so nervous and restless I couldn't sleep—didn't have any appetite and kept getting worse. Every one was so uneasy about me."

I cannot exactly describe two awful spells I had. . . I had a shortness of breath and would smother at night. I couldn't move or cry out. I felt like I would die. My limbs would get numb and feel very uncomfortable. We used many medicines, and I didn't get better.

I had read of Cardui in the Birthday Almanac and had often heard that it was a good medicine. I began to take it according to directions and began to improve. I soon was strong and able to do my work. I cannot praise Cardui enough. I have every reason to believe that it saved my life."

Tested and proven in every way by many women, over a period of more than 40 years, Cardui has attained its present high standing, and popularity because of the satisfactory results secured from its use.

If you are weak and run-down, and need a good, reliable, tonic medicine, try Cardui. All druggists.—(adv.)

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right off of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or maple instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "½ ounce of Pinex" with full directions. Do not accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

Too much cannot be said for a wonderful preparation, familiar to many women as Mother's Friend.

It is more effective in its action than all the health rules ever laid down for the guidance of expectant mothers. It is an external remedy that spreads its influence upon the cords, tendons and muscles of the abdomen, rendering them pliant, and they expand gracefully without that peculiar wrenching strain.

The occasion is, therefore, one of unbounded joy and anticipation and too much stress cannot be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy parental disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generations to come.

The pain at the crisis is infinitely less when Mother's Friend is used during the period of expectancy for the muscles expand easily and with less strain when baby is born.

Mother's Friend is for external use only, is entirely safe and may be had of your druggist. It is prepared by the Bradford Regulator Co., D-46, Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write them to mail you their "Mother's Friend Book." They will send it at once, without charge, and you will find it very helpful. Do not neglect for a single night and morning to apply Mother's Friend according to directions around the bottle, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.—(adv.)

LOW DEATH RATE FROM "FLU" HERE

Dr. J. P. Kennedy Believes That Ban for Another Week on Public Gatherings Is Necessary.

With a registered mortality of seven out of a total number of cases reaching 1,167 all told, the city health authorities gave out optimistic statements Monday regarding the Spanish influenza situation in Atlanta, and while it is believed that the preventive measures that have been taken will serve to stave off the epidemic that seemed for awhile to threaten the city, the health officers call attention to the promise of a greater mortality as a result of the malady during the coming days because of the frequent development of the disease into pneumonia.

"We can look for more deaths as a result of influenza during the next week or ten days," said Dr. Kennedy. "Because the malady frequently runs into pneumonia and other dangerous complications, and as the disease progresses the number of deaths greatly increases because of the above stated facts."

While a great many people of Atlanta are sufferers from the influenza, according to health officers, it is also equally true that a number of people who think they have the dreaded "flu" have only aggravated cases of "coryza," or common colds, but the suppression of all public gatherings, and the closing of entertainment places, is regarded as having been a most potent preventive measure in keeping down the epidemic that for a time threatened Atlanta.

Dr. Kennedy declares his belief that the situation has grown no worse within the past two days, but is unwilling to state that it has decidedly improved. He says that it is his opinion that another week of closed churches, schools and amusement places will put the city out of danger, and expresses himself as against lifting the ban on any public gathering within the city limits for at least a week.

NO NEED TO WORRY ABOUT PICKPOCKETS AT THE GREAT FAIR

Visitors at the Southeastern fair need have no cause for alarm on account of pickpockets as the Southeastern fair police force, under the leadership of Captain Lamar Poole, seems to have the pickpockets well in hand.

Only one case of theft has been reported. This case was that of J. W. Wise, a visitor, who lost a wallet on the opening day, which contained only a railroad pass.

ARTILLERY BATTLE ON AMERICAN LINE

With the American Forces Northwest of Verdun, October 14.—(By A. P.)—Violent artillery actions were in progress today along the greater part of the American front. Little change was made in the line, but the Germans late last night laid down batteries that were preparatory to counter attacks of a small but vicious character.

The most determined effort made by the enemy was on the left across the river. Airs between St. Juvin and St. Georges. The Germans advanced in open order and fought with a steadiness that indicated fresh troops.

Within an hour, however, the American artillery, supporting the line of infantry with machine guns, had brought the little offensive to a halt.

The enemy directed a harassing fire on the American line throughout the night and in the forenoon today. Malmau woods especially was shelled.

The second day of clouds and rain made assistance by aviators virtually impossible. The Germans took the fullest advantage of the weather conditions to throw over enormous quantities of gas, which, in the drizzle, filled the ravines and woods and hugged the ground closely for hours.

The American troops west of the river were not only kept dry all day, but not only can be dried all the more in the rain, but can be washed and retain its curl

INSTRUCTOR'S WIFE TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Benton Was Told She Could Not Recover—Trouble Disappears After Taking Tanlac—Gains Twenty Pounds.

"I had been told that I might outlive my troubles, but that nothing would ever relieve them, and until I started taking Tanlac, no medicine had ever done me any good," said Mrs. Benton, wife of Professor G. L. Benton, of the University of Tennessee, residing at 1205 Arthur Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee.

"Some told me I had lead stones, others thought I had rheumatism and whatever the trouble was, it seemed like it had come to stay. I had stiffness in my joints until I had almost lost use of one knee, and I had indigestion so bad that there were few things I ate that didn't give me hours of misery afterward. I was nervous at night and so restless I couldn't sleep, and sharp cutting pains through my back would strike me and torture me dreadfully.

"The four bottles of Tanlac I have taken have been a revelation to me. Not only has Tanlac put my stomach in perfect condition, but it has reached the rheumatism and the pains have disappeared entirely. I can even eat ham for breakfast now, and though I am still a little careful about my diet, I have gained twenty pounds in weight and I give Tanlac the whole credit for my recovery."

Tanlac is sold by Atlanta's leading druggists.—(adv.)

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

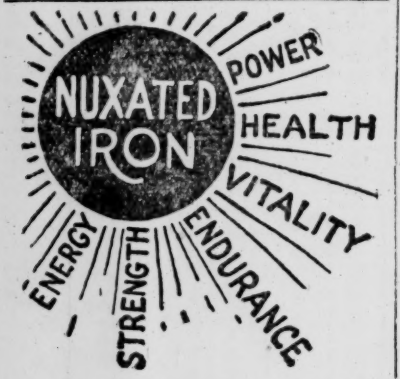

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children's life different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy. They know their child loves to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Co." and refuse any other kind with contempt.—(adv.)

Nuxated Iron increases strength and endurance of delicate, nervous, rundown people in two weeks' time in many instances. It has been used and endorsed by such men as Hon. Louis M. CROSS ON HIS BACK SOUVENIR OF WAR FOR JEAN FOURNAN

Paris, September 30.—(A. P. Correspondence).—Private Jean Fournan, of New York city, hereafter will carry a cross on his back as a souvenir of the great war. The wound that has marked him is so unusual that he is known at American Military Hospital No. 1, where he is now convalescing, as the "Red Cross Man," and doctors, nurses and patients have watched his case with unusual interest.

Fournan is a member of one of the American regiments recently engaged in the fighting around Fismes. He has been in France since last October, and went through heavy fighting on several fronts without a scratch.

One morning a short time ago, just as his company went over the top, he was hit by a machine gun bullet, a shrapnel shell knocked him out. He had a momentary stinging sensation and then awoke to find himself on an American sanitary train from which he was taken by ambulance to the hospital.

When he was carried to the operating room, the surgeon looked him over and then called the other doctors to come and look. The boy had been hit by two pieces of shrapnel, one of which had gone down his back so close to the spine that it had paralyzed him from the waist down. The other had crossed at right angles, leaving the mark of a perfect cross on his back.

Fournan has those pieces of shrapnel in his Red Cross treasure bag. He says they were "lucky pieces," because they "only left a scar."

Attorneys Fred E. Harrison and Edwin Nalley are counsel for the petitioner.

GERMANS HOLDING KAISER RESPONSIBLE

Paris, October 14.—In commenting on the German peace proposals, The Volks Zeitung of Leipzig, Saxony, is quoted in a dispatch from Switzerland as saying:

"In the minds of the German people responsibility for the present situation centers more and more clearly each day on the person of the emperor. He is the most brilliant and best organized army."

In 1888 the emperor said he would sacrifice his throne for the sake of the German people. He has now sacrificed his throne for the sake of the German people. He has now sacrificed his throne for the sake of the German people. He has now sacrificed his throne for the sake of the German people.

MOBILIZED FOR FIGHT TO CHECK INFLUENZA

Washington, October 14.—The public health service announced tonight that it now is mobilized for a national campaign against the epidemic of Spanish influenza which has swept the country. Additional headquarters for state-wide efforts to control the disease will be established in co-operation with state and local health authorities at Columbia, S. C.; Richmond, Va.; Baltimore and Columbus, Ohio.

While the epidemic continues unabated in most sections of the country, the number of new cases at army camps showed a decrease by Sunday and today, the total for the 48-hour period ending at noon today being 15,152. New cases of pneumonia also decreased as did the number of deaths.

Pneumonia cases for the two days were 1,730 and the deaths 1,642.

Since the beginning of the epidemic in army camps, the total cases of influenza reported is 2,939; pneumonia, 25,465, and deaths 10,741.

In announcing today that it was mobilized for a national campaign against the epidemic of Spanish influenza, the public health service said Surgeon General Blue had telegraphed all state health authorities, suggesting that they organize in an effective manner as possible locally available resources, especially nursing personnel. Dr. Blue also suggested that all possible use be made of women who have not had regular training in order to diminish to some extent the demands made on the doctors and nurses of the country, who are badly overworked.

CAMP MILLS SOLDIERS SHOT FROM AIRPLANE

New York, October 14.—A military board of inquiry was appointed tonight at Hazelhurst aviation field to investigate the shooting today of four soldiers at Camp Mills. The men were killed by bullets fired inadvertently from the machine gun of an army airplane in flight over the camp.

It was said that no details of the shooting, which cost one soldier's life, will be given out until the board has reached its findings. The men struck by the hail of bullets from the sky were lined up in drill formation when the accident occurred.

William H. Hall, private, McLeanboro, Ill., died from a wound in the head.

The injured are: William H. Bivens, private, Avon, Ill.; Samuel M. Lowrey, lieutenant, Summit, Pa.; Lewis J. Simmons, private, Danville, Ill.

The army and aviation authorities had not succeeded late Tuesday in identifying the airplane which at the time of the accident was not seen at the camp. It was the theory of the aviation officers that the airplane while engaged in target practice, suddenly dipped, thus unintentionally directing a stream of bullets earthward.

IN COMA 18 MONTHS, HEALTHY WOMAN FINALLY PASSES

Charleston, S. C., October 14.—Miss Lucy Berry, of Lenoir, S. C., died Saturday at the Roper hospital here, after having been continuously in a state of coma for upward of eighteen months.

Her case for months greatly puzzled local physicians, who were inclined to the belief that she was a victim of the most unusual form of hysteria. Month after month she lay on a bed at the hospital, never uttering more than a word or so at a time, and often going for several weeks without articulating at all. Physically, Miss Berry, who was 39 years of age, was sound.

Before bringing her for treatment to Charleston, the hospital authorities say, the family in belief that she had been hypnotized, tried experts from various schools of hypnotism, but none of them were able to arouse her. Members of her family from time to time came here to see her, but she recognized none of them. In fact, usually she was sleeping soundly throughout the interval of their visits.

GO LIMIT FOR LOAN, URGED BY WILSON

Washington, October 14.—President Wilson today issued this statement on the fourth Liberty Loan campaign:

"The reply of the German government to my note of inquiry, dated October 8, gives occasion for me to say to my fellow countrymen that neither that reply nor any other recent events have in any way diminished the vital importance of the Liberty Loan. Relaxation now, hesitation now, would mean defeat in the great struggle to be in sight; would mean years of war instead of peace upon our own terms.

"I earnestly request every patriotic American to leave to the governments of the United States and of the allies the momentous discussions initiated by Germany and to remember that for each man his duty is to strengthen the hands of these governments and to be in the most important way now immediately presented—by subscribing to the utmost of his ability for bonds of the fourth Liberty Loan. That loan must be successful. I am sure that the American people will not fail to see their duty and make it successful."

Coincident with the president's statement, the treasury department announced that with only five days left in the fourth loan campaign, half of the six-billion-dollar total remains to be subscribed. That means that the country must invest nearly one billion dollars a day in bonds from now until Saturday night, when the three weeks' drive ends.

Subscriptions officially reported to the treasury department total only $2,798,419,950, but officials were confident that reports yet to be made on today's subscriptions would carry the total above the three-billion-dollar mark.

Subscriptions by Districts.

The Minneapolis district claims the distinction of being the first to subscribe its quota of $100,000,000 with every state over-subscribing, but its final reports to the treasury are incomplete because bank reports are not yet received. That the tabulations have not yet been completed.

By districts, the loan progress follows:

District	Subscription	P. C.
St. Louis	150,971,900	71
Minneapolis	286,255,000	57
Boston	201,433,500	54
San Francisco	448,798,900	61
Chicago	68,314,000	46
Dallas	122,282,700	44
Richmond	112,582,900	42
Kansas City	253,948,350	42
Cleveland	683,439,000	37
New York	69,292,700	36
Philadelphia	177,893,200	35

Big Gains in Many Sections.

Tremendous gains have been made in many sections of the country, it was shown by sales report tonight, the first since last Friday. Five districts, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Boston, San Francisco and Chicago, have obtained more than half of their quotas, and three other districts, Dallas, Richmond and Cleveland, are well above 40 per cent. BELGIANS DRIVEN ALONG THE ROADS BY GERMAN TROOPS

Amsterdam, October 14.—Pitiable scenes are being witnessed in Belgium as masses of people are driven along the roads by the Germans, according to the Rosendael correspondent of The Rotterdam Maasbode. The roads around Brussels and Antwerp, he says, are so crowded with refugees that ordinary traffic is entirely blocked, while between Brussels and Antwerp there is one slowly moving army of misery.

Processions of tens of thousands of people with their goods, who have traveled a-foot from northern France—from Lille, Turcoing and other places—are being driven forward by the Germans.

In addition, he declares, there are all the male inhabitants of Flanders whom the Germans are likewise removing.

Excessive misery exists everywhere. The headquarters of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria have been transferred from Thiel to Brussels, the correspondent adds, while the neighboring towns of Brussels and Mantes have been placed under the jurisdiction of the German field army.

revoked as to ocean shipment after October 18.

Savannah Man Wounded.

Ottawa, October 14.—R. Whalley, of Savannah, Ga., is listed among the wounded in the overseas casualty list issued today.

Using a Tooth-brush as a Weapon of Protection Against Influenza

If you treat your tooth-brush merely as a toilet article, you are casting it into the limbo of only half-important possessions. To look upon it as a means of keeping your mouth, as the gateway to your system, in as sanitary and cleanly condition as possible, is to use it as a measure of self-protection.

During an epidemic of influenza this form of simple and effective self-protection is particularly recommended by all health officials.

"It is easier and cheaper to prevent disease than to cure it," say army surgeons, leaders in medicine, and health boards. Some authorities claim that ninety per cent of all infections can be traced to the oral cavity.

To keep the teeth, the mouth and the throat clean and sanitary is the office of Kolynos Dental Cream. Because it so well fulfills this office millions of tubes of Kolynos are used in America and other civilized countries. If you do not know the luxury and healthfulness of its habitual use, try it today.

Omit Useless Telephone Calls and Help in This Emergency

Bell telephone service in Atlanta is still seriously hampered by the absence of a large number of operators who are ill with Spanish influenza.

Adequate service cannot be rendered under these conditions unless we have the patriotic co-operation of the entire telephone-using public. The traffic is heavier than usual today, and our limited force of operators is striving to meet the unusual demands.

You are urged not to make local or long distance telephone calls except in cases of absolute necessity. Ordinary business and social calls must be eliminated so that the traffic may be reduced to the point where it can be handled efficiently by the limited number of operators who are able to perform their duties.

If you make unnecessary calls you will interfere with the emergency needs of the community and prevent us from handling the calls which are absolutely essential.

Only through the patriotic co-operation of the entire telephone using public can we successfully cope with this serious situation and render service for the essential needs of the public.

M. H. GEORGE, District Manager.

CAMP GORDON TO GIVE 800 GOLD BARS TODAY

Eight hundred new second lieutenants will be turned out by the central officers' training school at Camp Gordon today. Monday was spent in receiving pay, turning in clothes, guns and other accoutrements of mere privates, and today the graduates will blossom forth in the new uniforms ready to don the coveted gold bars.

The Spanish influenza has interfered to some extent with the work in the training camp, but it will not interfere with the graduation exercises of the third battalion boys, who have completed the last two weeks of strenuous training. The exercises will follow the same course as the previous graduations, which have been a source of interest to a habit in the training school area. The classes are being turned out every month. The personnel of the graduation class has not yet been made

CAMP GORDON MEETS
M'CLELLAN SATURDAY

Plans for a real stiff contest are being made by Camp Gordon's eleven for their first big game of the season next Saturday afternoon at Sage field when they will have as their opponents the fast team from Camp McClellan. Lieutenant G. N. Messer camp athletic officer, and Dr. Stuart the coach in direct charge of the team are leaving nothing undone to present their real line-up. From all indications, the famous Joe Beers, of Dartmouth fame, will be seen at his old position of right guard. In this place he made his enviable record and started the football team.

Waller of Princeton and Struppler, the pride and glory of Georgia Tech, although playing a real game last Saturday, against their light opponents, Oglethorpe university, will make a better showing Saturday. Kurtz and Horton and others will be seen.

Dr. Stuart has made new plans, de-

COTTON

Associated Press report sent out from New Orleans and published in morning papers today that peace would mean the lowering of cotton values is absurd and shows the desperation of the bears to shake out spot holders, when it is known that peace would at once restore world-wide shipping and give one billion people chance to wear enough cotton clothes to hide their nakedness and one ship which would require more than the visible supply of cotton in the world. If cotton broke more than 10 per bale on prospects of war in Europe and of unrestricted submarine warfare. February 1, 1917 how could it break on peace, which would mean rapid exhaustion of all stocks of cotton and cotton goods in the world? Cotton is now selling at 50 cents per pound in Liverpool and will sell at that price in any American port with peace and normal shipping conditions. Don't be frightened out of your spots, but freeze to them—peace is in sight now.—The Cotton and Cotton Oil News, Dallas, Texas.

PUT ARMISTICE UP TO GEN. FOCH

He Is Only One Competent to Decide, Says Simonds.

Armistice Purely Military and Has Nothing to Do With Peace Terms.

By Frank H. Simonds.

New York, October 14. (Special.)—There is an imperative necessity at this time to recognize certain facts unmistakably. We are in grave danger of having the whole situation befogged to our great injury and Germany's enduring benefit, if we permit ourselves to be confused.

First of all, an armistice is not in any way related to the making of peace terms. It is purely and simply an inquiry of a beaten contestant for a statement of those conditions on which he can obtain freedom from further punishment. It is thus a military matter purely and simply. It is, in substance, this statement by the enemy, "I have been beaten, what must I do to escape further thrashing?" Above all, a truce is an agreement between two unbeaten contestants to suspend military operations either pending the negotiating of peace or for a time covered, for example, my home holiday as in the wars of an earlier period. A truce presupposes equal ability on both sides to resume a conflict, which has not yet reached a point where either can claim the right to impose conditions upon the other.

Response to Armistice. Now, the response to an armistice must be based upon the military circumstances which exist. In substance, the party approached through its military agent must say: "I will not permit you to escape the consequences of your defeat. I will not let you have time to reorganize your armies or reach new and better positions of defense."

And if the request for an armistice is made of a civil government that government in the nature of things can do no more than consult the military chief whose business it is to deal with military matters and consult him as to what guarantees are indispensable to the retention of the advantages already acquired as a result of his military successes. There is not the smallest question of peace terms, so far as the whole business of seeking and granting an armistice is concerned.

The answer of the military executive must be based upon what he knows of the military situation which can establish and protect his military situation. In the case of Bulgaria, General D'Elia told the allied governments that only surrender and demobilization of the Bulgarian army would suffice, and they accepted this statement, as did the Bulgarians. The answer of Foch will be equally final. He has won a great victory. He is exploiting this victory and our armies are advancing from the sea to the Meuse. Cessation of hostilities now can only be permitted if the Germans are willing to impose upon Germany, which translates into immediate fact what is bound to be the eventual consequence of recent military achievements.

No Room for Peace Discussion.

In this connection there is no room for any discussion of the terms of peace. A man under indictment may apply for bail pending trial, but the question then raised is one of the security to be demanded against his appearance at the trial. Exactly in the same way we may grant an armistice to Germany on the delivery of proper security. In all this there is nothing to be determined by the case between Germany and the rest of the world.

Let us put aside all this pettifogging talk about peace terms at this stage of the game. If we fail to do this we shall presently be led away from the main facts, just as the German hopes. The terms of peace are to be framed by the nations allied against Germany. In conference. They cannot be framed in advance of a submission of Germany. We cannot decide what conditions we intend to impose upon Germany, while Germany is still in a position to resist all terms.

Germany is either beaten or she is not beaten. If she is beaten, then she must submit. If she is not beaten, there is no question of her submitting except by beating her. The proof of her submission is her consent to comply with the terms of peace. The proof of her submission is her consent to comply with the terms of peace. The proof of her submission is her consent to comply with the terms of peace.

Army Only Allied Protection. If Germany is engaged in another peace offensive, designed to divide her enemies and thus to escape the consequences of her present defeat; if she is acting in bad faith then our only protection is our army and our generals and we cannot know whether she is acting in good or bad faith until she has broken her military promises.

There is only one term in the world qualified to give Germany the armistice which Germany has asked for and which we are bound to grant. Wilson has a right to debate with Germany on the ground of faith of honor, but if he chooses, but the debate is personal, and it is obviously interminable. We cannot discuss peace terms before we establish our victory we may lose the victory and the military armistice task before it is completed we may have it all to do over. We have beaten the enemy. He has asked for an armistice. The only armistice now sible is one that does not endanger our military position. It is the only judge of what will not endanger our military position is Marshal Foch. His business is to make peace possible. If we take the matter out of his hands, then we shall not get peace, but more war—possibly a lost war—after all.

Armistice Not Peace Negotiation. In sum, an armistice is not a peace negotiation. It is the submission of a defeated opponent to the will of his victor expressed in military terms. It is not a truce, which is a privilege to compromise and to negotiate peace. It is nothing more nor less than the exploitation of military success by the victor to permit the victor, without further resistance, to achieve the end he would inevitably achieve by pursuing military operations.

The German has asked for an armistice. Let him have it, but let the terms of all that is worth while in this world, let him not have anything else. We are not yet at the point of reorganizing human society. We have barely reached the point where we can, if we act wisely, protect ourselves against the invader who in all respects the invader of August and September, 1914. (Copyright, 1918, by The Constitution, by The New York Tribune.)
